

DVFlora Founder, Doris Wilkins, Passes Away

It is with great sadness that DVFlora announces the passing of our founder, Doris Wilkins, who left us peacefully on July 5th, 2024 at the age of 103.

In 1959, Doris and her husband, Robert Wilkins, founded Delaware Valley Wholesale Florist in a small corner shop in Pitman, NJ. They supported each other through the years and together built the foundation for what DV is today.

Even through retirement, Doris was always interested in the business and would frequently express how proud she was of the whole team for continuing to grow the business, supporting our customers and carrying forward the legacy and culture her and Bob started.

For more information on the life of Doris and funeral arrangements, please visit: <https://www.kelleyfhpitman.com/obituaries/Doris-J-Wilkins?obId=32251272>